Chisom Freida Okereke — Professional Brag File

A running record of skills, experience, and accomplishments — for interview prep, performance conversations, and self-review.

Professional Summary

Appointment Setter | Virtual Assistant | Lead Generation | Customer Support

A motivated and detail-oriented professional specializing in appointment setting, lead generation, virtual assistance, and customer support — with practical business ownership experience that strengthens communication, organization, and customer-relationship skills.

Training & Certifications

- Completed a full Professional Appointment Setting Certification, covering: appointment setting, lead generation, prospecting, lead qualification, cold outreach, follow-up strategies, CRM fundamentals, sales communication, and appointment scheduling.
- This is a structured, completed training program — not informal self-study — covering the full sales-support pipeline end to end.

Interview talking point: “I didn’t just pick up these skills informally — I completed a dedicated certification program covering the entire appointment-setting pipeline, from prospecting through to CRM management.”

Real-World Business Experience

Independent Business Owner

Ran and managed my own customer-facing business, which included: - Communicating directly with customers and responding to product inquiries - Understanding customer needs and managing expectations - Processing and coordinating orders end-to-end - Following up consistently with customers post-purchase - Promoting products through social media (organic marketing) - Writing product descriptions and promotional content - Handling customer concerns professionally and resolving issues - Maintaining organized day-to-day business operations

Interview talking point: “I’m not coming into virtual assistance or appointment setting cold — I’ve already run the customer-facing side of a real business, so I understand what it’s like to be the person on the other end of the follow-up call.”

Demonstrated Skills (via Practice Portfolio Projects)

Freida built six structured practice projects to demonstrate real workflow competency in each core area:

1. Lead Generation & Prospect Research — Built a full targeted-prospect workflow: defined an ideal customer profile, researched qualifying businesses, identified decision-makers, and organized/categorized leads for outreach.
2. Appointment Setting Workflow — Designed a complete prospect-to-booked-appointment pipeline (Research → Outreach → Response → Qualification → Follow-Up → Booking).
3. Cold Outreach Campaign — Wrote non-aggressive, conversation-first outreach copy designed to open dialogue rather than push a sale.
4. Follow-Up Sequence — Built a 4-stage follow-up system (reminder → value-based nudge → respectful check-in → open-ended close) to prevent lost opportunities.
5. CRM & Lead Management — Structured a full 7-stage sales pipeline (New Lead → Contacted → Responded → Qualified → Appointment Set → Follow-Up → Closed).
6. Customer Service Framework — Applied a Listen → Understand → Respond → Resolve → Follow-Up model to customer communication.

Interview talking point: “Even without paid client work yet, I built out real workflows for every stage of the sales and support pipeline — so I can walk you through exactly how I’d handle prospecting, outreach, follow-up, and CRM organization from day one.”

Elevator Pitch (Ready to Use)

“I help businesses connect with the right prospects, stay organized through their sales pipeline, and keep customers feeling heard — through appointment setting, lead generation, virtual assistance, and customer support. I’ve completed formal appointment-setting certification, built out full practice workflows across the entire sales-support pipeline, and bring real business-ownership experience in customer communication and order coordination. I’m looking to build long-term working relationships where I can keep growing while delivering measurable value.”
